PUMA UNITED

Brief History

This short booklet is a brief history of Puma United, a zine which began in June 1988. It's Conception though goes back a few more years to a simple spectrum game called UNITED. The game itself bugged be immensely because getting to division 1 was easy but winning the title was impossible. It was not possible to coach players above level 10 so a team had a maximum of 110 levels [11 players x 10 = 110] but when your opposition was fielding 130-140 levels you were never going to win. Non the less I was addicted and eventually contacted the name on the inlay card of the game. Alan Parr – Alan is the creator of UNITED and his zine Hopscotch, like PUMA and TOTL is still around.

I began PBMinig in 1987 with Dave Carter's zine "Scorpio", and I enjoyed it so much that I chose to create my own zine and in 1988 it came to life as PUMA. The zine tried to take UNITED to new heights as it challenged the 8, 10 and 12 team divisions by becoming the first league to set up with 16 teams per division. This made it popular and within just three sessions PUMA went from 2 divisions to 3 divisions. Four about 8 seasons PUMA actually ran with 4 divisions. During this time PUMA achieved some firsts including. Colour front sheets, Play-off games, Above level 10 coaching as standard to name a few. Of course UNITED as a whole was incredibly popular and there were zines popping up all over the place – the majority lasted 6 or 7 years before folding. Of course PUMA and TOTL join HOPSCOTCH in being one of a rare bread of zines to reach 200+ issues The only other zine that I personally know of that reached this landmark was DNE. There may be one or two others of course. I am proud to say that after 20 years PUMA {and TOTL} continue to be a part of PBM history thank in the main to me as GM trying to maintain a level of consistency in turnaround and ease of reading to allow managers to make and fulfil long term plans.

Alan of course deserves the plaudits for creating the initial game, but without you the players my zines would not be here today. – Thank you.
